Listening and Speaking are crucial skills that have to be learned by students. This skills gives rise to communicate with others easily. That is why majority of student want to learn these useful skills and in this process they encounter any kind of problem. There are plethora of methods which will be helpful for student. One of them is that “Shadowing” technique. Shadowing is an imitation technique which will be useful for your learning period especially for listening and speaking. In this technique, student should find one native speaker and should imitate him or her.

The steps of the Shadowing technique:

A) Concentrating on the correct pronunciation when shadowing the listening text;

B) Attending to the meaning of the listening text;

C) Reproducing the listening text by picturing it;

The shadowing technique is a great way to improve listening and speaking skills but lots of student do not know about it . It is almost like secret strategy but it is easy to learn. What is so great about it is that:

1. Students can do it on their own
2. It takes only about 15 minutes
3. It is very effective
4. Students can do it for free

Another method for high school students in terms of improving listening and speaking is watching film in English. It is a great way to improve English, especially listening and speaking skills. Students can learn useful vocabulary which can be useful for their daily speech and also useful for understanding skills. It is important to mention that student ought to study at school, however it is recommended to all students to watch films in English in their spare time for additional practice. Firstly, students should watch movie with subtitle because they faces some problems in terms of understanding. However, if learner have a higher level of English, he can try to watch without subtitle. This can be helpful among high school students, if they allow all of rules during watching film. Organized some debates during the lesson is also helpful for enhance knowledge among the students in terms of listening and speaking. Every social interaction gives students a new opportunity to practice language. They feel free during the debates and it is helpful for future examination in terms of speaking. Organizing debates among the students is also useful for the listening skills for example, they use some new words or some phrase.

In order to achieve aim to improve listening and speaking skills in high school students writing transcripts while listen some podcast. During writing this kind of podcast students should listen again and again in order to learn some new words and writing transcripts with right way. It can helpful for understand listening track fully and good way for improve listening and speaking skills. Podcasts are also crucial for improve critical thinking which will be helpful for gain idea for speaking skills.

Moreover, podcasts can improve students' listening comprehension, as many are designed to challenge listeners with complex vocabulary, idiomatic expressions, and fast-paced dialogue. Listening these podcasts can improve your ability to understand spoken English, pick up on subtle nuances and cultural references. After listening podcasts students should work with their partners and they were expected to communicate with each other in English in terms of these podcasts and exchange their thoughts and views about these podcast. In this cases these podcast can be helpful both listening and speaking among the high school students.
